

Executive summary

Deliverable D1.1 is about establishing personalized data protection by assigning a Data Protection Officer (DPO) in each of the host institutions. The beneficiaries must check if special derogations pertaining to the rights of data subjects or the processing of genetic, biometric and/or health data have been established under the national legislation of the country where the research takes place and submit a declaration of compliance with respective national legal framework(s).

The host institution must confirm that it has appointed a Data Protection Officer (DPO) and the contact details of the DPO are made available to all data subjects involved in the research. A description of the technical and organizational measures that would be implemented to safeguard the rights and freedoms of the data subjects/research participants must be submitted as a deliverable.

For further processing of previously collected personal data, an explicit confirmation that the beneficiary has lawful basis for the data processing and that the appropriate technical and organizational measures are in place to safeguard the rights of the data subjects must be submitted in the form of a document, i.e., deliverable.
